My Story:

I am Xi. My nickname has it's own story: 'x' stands for a variable (like in maths) - it has infinite meaning and can be replaced with anything; 'i' comes from 'inertia' - which I believe is universal state of everything. When you put x.inertia together you get everything on one side and they way it exists on the other. I like to put a lot physics and philosophy in everything I create.

I came into music by what might seem as an accident, I realized it's my favorite thing to do straight away though. I used to write a lot of lyrics for a while. One day I was at a friend's place, who is a producer and was playing with FL, wrote a beat. He suggested me to record something on top of it and since I had a bunch of lyrics ready I went for it. Still recording music since that day as you can see.

What is the Legend:

I call a story behind my songs a legend. All of my lyrics are somewhat different at a first glance, though there is a connecting story between all of them. I usually write songs for different reasons, to different people, characters and entities. However, the connection part is how I feel about them.

I don't differentiate songs according to who it was written for. I see it as writing to a feeling. It's a challenge for me to make songs personal and particular, I view world as a flow of emotions that everybody shares. I think they are as alive as we are. Those are who I write to because they are the ones who can change and can change us.
